The Inter American University School of Optometry reserves the right to revise tuition and fee rates as well as other charges under the following circumstances:

- When increases in compensation, operational or capital expenditures occur.
- When budget projections indicate probable increases in compensation, operational or capital expenditures.
- When, after careful consideration of any specific situation, the administration of the University decides that adjustments to tuition and fee rates or other charges are reasonable and justified.

In all cases, a revision of the tuition and fee rates and/or other charges must be announced at least fifteen (15) days before the date payments are due.
